

Dear Parents/Guardians,

While it does not constitute a subject, training in discipline underlies the whole educational structure. It is this training that develops self-control, character, orderliness, efficiency, and the ability to cope with the future responsibilities of adult life. The student at St. Joseph's Catholic school must assume an active role in resolving his or her own problems appropriately. This action will lead the children through a growth process toward self-discipline, self reflection and a strong self concept. By making students aware that every choice of action has a consequence – good or bad, a sense of responsibility and accountability for those choices is developed. An effective discipline policy ensures that this school's climate will be conducive to learning and that each student will be treated with respect, dignity and fairness. The purpose of a discipline policy is to change student behavior in a positive manner. Therefore, any strategies employed must focus on positive improvement rather than simply imposing sanctions.

Our discipline code will seek to foster the values of a Christian community: kindness, courtesy, justice, respect, and cooperation. Students are challenged to live, grow and internalize the morals and values of our Catholic teachings. At our school the discipline policies are intended to: promote personal responsibility and self-control, provide a classroom environment conducive to learning, provide for the well-being and safety of each student and promote cooperation between teachers and parents in supporting proper behavior.

You should note that at St. Joseph's School we hold our students to a higher standard and will strive to disallow behaviors that today's society has deemed acceptable. Cooperation as well as participation from parents with respect to this discipline system will reinforce good habits that will last a lifetime.

In order to promote the school's mission statement, we believe that no student has the right to interfere with a teacher's right to teach. Students are expected to behave in a manner, which brings honor to them and the school at all times. At St. Joseph's Catholic School, we pride ourselves on our courtesy and ability to treat others with respect and dignity. This creates a warm and friendly atmosphere that we feel is a necessary characteristic of a Catholic School.

The St. Joseph's School administration has developed, and the Education Commission has adopted, the following rules for student behavior. It should be noted that the infractions and consequences for violation listed on the following pages are meant to provide for a general understanding of actions a student may expect for various infractions. It is also meant to provide guidance to the students to help them identify behaviors that are deemed inappropriate through clear examples.

St. Joseph's School will use these adopted policies and consequences to administer policy violations. However, it should be noted that if there has been a policy violated with malicious intent or severe in nature, the administration reserves the right to modify the consequences listed within as it deems appropriate. Also, the administration reserves the right to address and administer consequences for unacceptable behavior that may arise but is not covered under this policy.

- To promote the development of self-discipline
- To build a caring culture within our community, where students, staff and parents encourage, value, support one another and feel safe

Rights, Responsibilities and Expectations

Students

- The right to a Catholic education without interference from others and the responsibility to conduct ones self in a manner that avoids interfering with another's education.
- The right to a safe environment and the responsibility to act in a safe manner.
- The right to be treated with respect and the responsibility to behave respectfully towards others.
- Students are expected to understand and obey the rules of the school.
- Students are also expected to adhere to the directions of the staff.

Parents/Guardians

- Instill in their children a respect for the rights and property of others.
- Respond to communications from school.
- Assist their children in learning and supporting school rules and policies.
- Cooperate with staff and administration to help students solve discipline problems.

Staff and Administration

- Help the students to learn and follow the rules by consistently enforcing the school policies.
- Respond to communications from parents.
- Seek conferences with parents and other school personnel in an effort to help those students having disciplinary issues to resolve them effectively and positively.
- Recognize positive behaviors by noticing and encouraging the student.
- Address negative behaviors immediately and consistently.

At our school, the discipline policies are intended to: promote personal responsibility and self-control, provide a classroom environment conducive to learning, provide for the well-being and safety of each student and promote cooperation between teachers and parents in supporting proper behavior. What follows are four ways this school will encourage “good behavior” through positive actions.

POSITIVE BEHAVIOR CONSEQUENCES

“Caught Being Good”: (Weekly)

Faculty and staff will report student’s names to the office who have been “caught” doing something out of the ordinary to help St. Joseph’s be a better place. Student’s names are posted weekly on the “Principal’s Pride” board, they are acknowledged weekly during our morning announcements, and they visit the principal’s office to receive a gift.

“Caught Being Good” Parties: (Quarterly)

Each quarter, students who were “caught being good” will be called from class and given a pizza party for their lunch.

“Principal’s” List:

Each quarter, any student who received a * in conduct (primary grades) or a 3 in conduct in middle school will be given a free non-uniform day and one name from each class will be randomly drawn to attend lunch with principal.

“Good Behavior” (as needed)

The administration and/or faculty and staff may give students/class an extended recess for great behavior/participation.

The following is designed to address as many areas as possible; however, it is IMPOSSIBLE to cover EVERY eventuality. Therefore, the administration reserves the right to address situations as it deems appropriate and to amend and/or waive policy for just cause.

Role of the Student

St. Joseph’s Catholic School students are expected to be polite and respectful towards others. Courtesy should be the hallmark of a student’s relationship with the adult staff and fellow students. A student shall conduct himself so as to reasonably comply with the following code of conduct:

- a) be diligent in pursuing his studies
- b) attend school regularly and punctually
- c) cooperate fully with everyone authorized by the Pastor and the Diocese of Rockford

- d) comply with the rules of the school
- e) account to his teachers for his conduct
- f) respect the rights of others

St. Joseph's Catholic School students must conform to all the regulations and expectations which are devised for the welfare of the whole student body. ATTENDANCE AT ST. JOSEPH'S CATHOLIC SCHOOL IMPLIES A WILLINGNESS TO COMPLY WITH ALL RULES AND EXPECTATIONS SET FORTH IN THIS POLICY. Negative behaviors such as profane or inappropriate language, verbal putdowns, inappropriate gestures, harassment, bullying, discrimination, fighting, theft and vandalism will not be tolerated.

Attendance

All students are expected to attend school regularly and punctually. All unconfirmed absences must be verified by the office through a phone call to parents. Students who are absent from school without a valid reason will be required to bring their parents in to meet with the Administration of the school before they are allowed to return to school. Students will be required to make up the time missed. If irregular attendance continues, the matter will be referred to the Truant Officer at the Harvard Police Department.

Approximate Dates:

Quarter I	August – October
Quarter II	November – December
Quarter III	January – March
Quarter IV	April – May

Lates

Students are expected to be in class on time. Students who repeatedly arrive late to class not only disrupt classroom instruction, but also impede the learning of others. Students who are late for class are expected to stop by the office and then quietly head to class.

The office will track student lates.

- | | |
|---|---|
| • 5 th unexcused late (per quarter) | A detention (form sent home) |
| • 7 th unexcused late (per quarter) | 2 nd detention (phone call home) |
| • 9 th unexcused late (per quarter) | 3 rd detention (warning letter) |
| • 11 th unexcused late (per quarter) | 1 day in school suspension |

Students who are referred to the office will be required to make up the time missed and develop a behavior plan to modify their behavior.

Incomplete Homework

Responsibility for the completion of all homework rests with the student. From time to time, teachers may assign homework as deemed necessary to effectively complete the requirements of their courses.

Students are expected to complete all assigned homework as outlined by their teachers. In the event that students are unable to do so as a result of an emergency, parents are asked to make contact with the teacher ahead of time to explain the circumstance. In exceptional cases, an extension may be granted provided that a plan is in place for successful completion of the assignment within a period of time deemed appropriate by the teacher.

In middle school, if a student does not complete their homework they may utilize one of three tickets given to them each quarter. These tickets will allow the assignment to be handed in no later than 10 days past the given date. In the primary grades, if a student does not complete their homework and does not attend an opportunity time, (This is a time determined by the teacher either before school, after school or during lunch recess where a student is given an opportunity to complete their homework.) a detention will be assigned. The detention form must be signed by the parent and returned to school the following day. All detentions will be served on Tuesday's and Thursday's from 2:45 to 3:45. Students must arrange for transportation home prior to the detention date. The student will be expected to complete the assignment and turn it in. As a general rule, teachers are expected to handle homework infractions at the classroom level. If a persistent problem develops, the teacher may refer the student to the office.

The following consequences will be applied per quarter:

Homework not done	School Consequence	Further Action
1 st to 3 rd homework not done	Opportunity Time
4 th homework not done	1 st Detention	Phone call home
5 th homework not done	2 nd Detention	Form sent home
6 th homework not done	3 rd Detention	Warning letter
7 th homework not done	Phone call/Parent meeting
8 th homework not done	5 th Detention	Form sent home
9 th homework not done	6 th Detention	In-school suspension
		Meeting with Admin/Parents

Conduct for In-Class Setting for All Grades

Students are expected not to disturb the classroom teacher or other students in the classroom. Since different subjects required different forms of behavior, each teacher is free to set up his or her own classroom rules and consequences that students must follow in accordance with school guidelines. All classroom policies will be reviewed and approved by the Principal. Classroom policies will be posted in each classroom and a copy will be provided to each parent/guardian. All classroom policies will be modeled after, but not limited to, the following:

Be prompt and prepared

Respect authority

Respect yourself and the rights of others and their property

Display a concern for learning

Display appropriate social skills

Display order and structure in the classroom setting

Be honest in every aspect of student life

Consequences of Inappropriate Behavior

The classroom teacher will handle minor breaches of school rules. Serious breaches of school rules will result in the matter being referred to the administration of the school where an appropriate consequence will be applied.

Minor Offences

These offences can be dealt with on the spot by any staff member/lunch or recess supervisor. Examples of minor offences are: late to class, rough play, gossip, disruptive classroom behavior, hallway/washroom loitering, dressing inappropriately and snowball throwing. The consequence may be a warning, recess or lunch hour community service, afterschool detention or a loss of privileges.

Repeated Minor Offences

Repeated minor offences will result in a detention. Parents will be notified of recurring problems. Any disciplinary action may take the form of:

- a) Problem solving, monitoring or reviewing behavior expectations with a warning
- b) School service
- c) Recess/afterschool detention
- d) Temporary loss of privileges

Strategies for Minor Misbehavior

- Speak to the child
- Use 1, 2, 3 time outs
- Withdraw privileges

- Think sheets
- Natural and logical consequences
- Class meetings

Interdependent Disciplinary Committee

After repeated documented attempts by faculty members to correct a student's behavior, the student will be referred to the Interdependent Disciplinary Committee. This committee will be made up of the current teacher, a previous teacher, the Pastor and the principal. Once a student has been referred to the IDC, two meetings will be scheduled. The parent and the student are required to attend all meetings. The first meeting will be to discuss the infractions and the second meeting will be held to present and implement a behavioral contract.

If the student does not adhere to the behavioral contract, the student will meet before the IDC again. At this point further consequences will be implemented with the possibility of an out of school suspension or expulsion.

Student Dress Code

All students are expected to dress with the appropriate modesty and taste associated with being in a school environment. A student who is not dressed appropriately will not be admitted into the classroom and will be referred to school administration for further action. Please refer to the Family Handbook for our dress code.

Assemblies, School Masses, Playground, and School Functions

Any student who wishes to keep their cell phone safe for the school day may turn in their phone to the office or to their homeroom teacher. The form is to be taken home, signed by the parent and returned to the school prior to the detention date. - There is no academic penalty assigned to an in-school suspension; however all assigned work will be graded.
- Students may NOT participate in after-school extra-curricular activities for five consecutive days.

AFTER THREE (3) IN-SCHOOL SUSPENSIONS PER SCHOOL YEAR, THE SUBSEQUENT ISS CONSEQUENCES WILL AUTOMATICALLY BECOME OUT OF SCHOOL SUSPENSIONS.

If a student is expelled from the in-school suspension area, he/she will be immediately sent home and the day will count as an out of school suspension.

Dear Parents/Guardians,

Discipline is a necessary reflection of the philosophy of any Catholic School. Effective discipline has as its end the development of students who respect themselves, other persons and those in authority. At St. Joseph's School we strive to nurture a positive sense of self-discipline in order to provide an environment that is conducive to learning.

St. Joseph's discipline policy is based upon the two great commandments: LOVE GOD and LOVE ONE ANOTHER. Therefore, our students, faculty, and parents are expected to treat one another with respect at all times. In addition, our Bullying Prevention Policy is in place to insure that each person is respected.
